REMEMBER:

- This is the first section and also the easiest. You should be able to get a high score on this section – it is important to be relaxed and calm so that you don't miss any answers. Practise some deep breathing or other relaxation exercises that you can use on exam day to help you settle quickly.
- Listen to the introduction (which sets the scene) and use the time given to look at the first set of questions. You are then less likely to miss an answer.
- It is important to keep up with the recording. If you do miss an answer, don't stop, move on to the next question. Later you can guess an answer for the missed one.
- Part-way through section 1, time will be given for you to look at the next set of questions.
- At the end of section 1, you will be given time to check your answers. Use this time wisely – check spelling, words that may need final 's', and make guesses if you have to. There is no penalty for a wrong answer.
